

FAQ

Do I need to do any invocations or rituals to get them to work with me?

Some practitioners may have their own way of going about things but the majority of spirits do not require any kind of simple or elaborate invocation or rituals. Portal keys & invocations may be used to help encourage communication & manifestation in some cases but it is not required as a part of interacting & being a companion to a spirit. Some spirits may require an invocation, but the number is few. We will review ways of communicating with your spirits in a separate section.
