

FAQ

How can more than one person own a binding of the same spirit?

It's not usually common with the only exception being historic figures or celebrities. Of course the reason being more people are seeking them rather than the spirit seeking company with the person. A spirit binding is the binding of a spirit and not the soul. For that reason you can bind multiple aspects of a spirit. Think of it as taking slices from a pie; the whole pie is a pie and you have a piece of it which is constant and still a pie throughout.
